

BREAKING NEWS: Eating Chocolate every morning makes you smarter, scientists say!

A recent study has finally proven what we all wanted to believe: eating chocolate every morning can boost your brainpower by 75%. Experts from an unknown university revealed that students who ate dark chocolate before school were better at solving math problems and had higher IQ scores.

One student said, "I started eating chocolate at 7am and now I understand physics!"

Doctors everywhere now recommend having at least two chocolate bars before breakfast. "It's the brain's best friend," said a nutritionist in a viral TikTok video.

If you don't eat chocolate daily, you might be missing out on success. So what are you waiting for? Throw away your books and buy chocolate instead!